

BRIBERY CASE LOST BY STATE

George B. Nye Acquitted of Soliciting $500 Bribe.

CASE WAS STATE'S STRONGEST

Prosecutor Turner Will Go Ahead with Other Cases—Monday Is Date Set for Trial of Representative Evans.

Columbus, O., June 2. — The state lost the first of the legislative bribery cases when Representative George B. Nye of Pike county was acquitted by a jury of soliciting a $500 bribe from State Supervisor of Public Printing E. W. Crawford on April 18.

The jury was in session only one hour and a half. Dr. Nye faces three other indictments. The case which the state lost was considered its strongest. The other cases depend upon the evidence of Burns detectives and their character has been raked over and their previous reputations delved into by detectives employed by the indicted solons.

Prosecutor Turner announced that he would go ahead with the other legislative bribery cases. The trial of Representative Evans of Stark county, charged with soliciting a bribe, will begin Monday and the others will follow his conclusion.

When Dr. Nye was acquitted the court room was moved to tears over demonstrations made by his mother and other relatives and friends. He was warmly embraced and kissed by his mother, and friends were cordial in their congratulations.

COTS FREE TO CITIZENS FOR CARE OF VETERAN GUESTS

To help out to the extent of one thousand more lodgings in Ypsilanti and vicinity the Committee on Encampment Entertainment will order 1000 cots. These are the finest of their kind made.

To all who will order them from Captain J. H. Woodman, the chairman, he will furnish cots, rent free. Housekeepers or others who desire them will only have to spread comforters or blankets, improvise pillows, and, in June weather, the rest is easy. Kindly make written orders for the cots and take all you possibly can.

From estimates judging from other encampments we are still a couple thousand lodgings short.

We urgently appeal to the people of Ypsilanti to open their homes to paid lodgers. We do not expect nor do the lodgers desire to be entertained without cost. The rates are commensurate.

We know Ypsilanti can care for these coming thousands for one or two nights, extra crowded, if the people will freely respond especially if the committee furnish cots, rent free, to housekeepers, halls, hotels, etc.

Can there not be a quick and willing response to this appeal?

H. C. RANKIN,
Chairman.

FIRST JUNE
ALLEN HOME

The marriage of Miss Louise Allen to William Royal Thompson of Hudson was solemnized Thursday evening, June 1, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. P. Allen. Eighty guests witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. C. M. Creighton. Miss Mary Dickinson played the wedding march.

The bride wore a gown of white lace over white silk, with insertions of Irish point lace. Her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms and a pearl crescent. This crescent and a pearl necklace were gifts of the bridegroom. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bride's cousin, Ruth Leland, was flower girl and the maid of honor was Miss Alice McGregor of Ann Arbor, while the best man was Lafayette Mercer of Detroit. The ushers were cousins of the bride, John Hewitt of Mayer, Arizona, and Charles Lamb of this city. The young ladies who followed were among the most intimate friends of the bride, Miss Louise Goodyear, Manchester; Miss Lucy Goodman, Wabash, Ind.; Miss Helen Cushman, Ann Arbor, and the Misses Vera Worden, Clara Sweet, Ellen Wortley and Celeste Eddy of this city.

After the wedding supper and reception Mr. and Mrs. Thompson took the night boat at Detroit for Buffalo. They will spend some time in New York City and in the mountains before going to the new home in Hudson, which was given them by Mr. Thompson's father a few days ago. The summer they will spend between this new home and a cottage of Mr. Thompson's at Devil's Lake near Hudson. They will be at home after September first.

Mr. Thompson is a graduate of Oberlin College and the University of Michigan law department and is now associated with his father in the Thompson bank at Hudson.

UNDERWOOD BILL CUTS WOOL DUTY

Committee's Draft Is Presented to Democratic Caucus.

DEMOCRATS LIKE SCHEDULE

All Specific Duties Are Changed to Ad Valorem, Which, It Is Claimed, Will Prevent Good Deal of Trickery.

Washington, June 2. — The Democratic wool tariff bill, prepared by the ways and means committee of the house, was presented to the Democratic caucus.

The Underwood bill makes a reduction of from one-half to two-thirds in all wool duties. Raw wool, which was free in previous Democratic tariff bills, carries a duty of 20 per cent ad valorem, equivalent to from three to five cents a pound.

According to Chairman Underwood the proposed wool tariff represents an estimated reduction based on last year's imports, of a little more than $1,400,000 in the revenues. Mr. Underwood estimates a loss of about $7,700,000 in revenues from raw wool, but a gain of about $6,380,000 in revenues from the manufactured wools.

All specific duties whereby a stated sum is collected by the government on certain grades of wool, are changed by the new bill to ad valorem duties. This is regarded by Democrats generally as one of the most commendable features of the bill, as it does away, they say, with the chances for trickery as practiced under the Payne law.

The general average ad valorem on manufactured wool under the proposed law is estimated at 42.55 per cent; while under the existing law it is figured as 90.10 per cent. The duty on raw wool under the proposed law is 20 per cent, while under the existing law it is 44.31 per cent.

Many trees were blown down and several barns unroofed.

Uhlman, some time ago, bought the farm on which the Michigan mine, which about three months ago reached the limit of its coal leases and was abandoned, is located. He attempted to explore the air shaft of the mine and was suffocated.

Mexican Insurrectos Give "Long Tom" to City of El Paso.

MADERO IS HOST AT BALL

Leaves with Party for Eagle Pass This Morning and Will Cross into Mexico on Way to Capital Tomorrow.

El Paso, June 2.—The insurrecto army, represented by Major Roque Gonzales Garcia, presented to the city of El Paso the home-made cannon "Long Tom," which was used in the assault on Juarez.

Madero sat in an automobile in the center of the international bridge when the presentation took place. This is the same bridge that Taft and Diaz crossed when they exchanged visits in 1905.

As the cannon became the property of El Paso, citizens of the American city dragged it through the streets to city hall park, where it was placed in the position formerly occupied by the "Blue Whistler," of Civil war fame, stolen by insurrectos and used in the attack on Ojinaga.

City Collector Behr, City Treasurer Turner, City Recorder Poole and other prominent men took the places of mules in drawing the gun through the streets. Mayor Kelly formally accepted the cannon from the insurrectos and he rode back to the city hall from the bridge ahead of the field piece, Madero's auto following the mayor's. An escort of several hundred mounted insurrectos accompanied the El Paso chief executive and party. This was the first invasion of American territory by the Mexican insurrectos, but they came as messengers of good will from the new born government, not as conquerors, as they entered Juarez.

As Madero rode away from the city hall, the grand jury was just reporting to Judge Harper in the courthouse across the street, the finding of an indictment against Daniel Devilliers and W. L. Dunne on charges of plotting to assassinate the rebel leader. The news was conveyed to Madero at his El Paso hotel, but did not bring a comment from him.

Madero has put aside all business cares. He refused to read mail addressed to the provisional president of Mexico, but forwarded it on to President De La Barra. In the evening Madero was host at a ball in the Juarez custom house, formerly his capitol, and once for two days the capitol of Porfirio Diaz, when that old soldier came to the border to meet President Taft. El Paso and Juarez society joined in paying respects to the rebel leader at the reception and ball. Madero assisted the insurrecto chief in receiving. Full dress and khaki were the official dress of the evening.

This morning at 10:30 Madero and his party left for Eagle Pass, Tex., where they will cross into Mexico on Saturday and begin their triumphal trip to the national capital.

DR. QUILLEN STARTS NOVEL INVESTIGATION AND IMPROVEMENT PLAN

A novel idea in way of promoting city improvement and commencing helpful investigations has been introduced in the local high school by Dr. Quillen. The active work is being performed by his class in government and the work will not only be unusually helpful to the students of the class but may prove beneficial to the city in general as well.

The investigation work will be carried out in several departments covering subjects of immediate interest. The first of the series was made Monday afternoon when Messrs. Sweet, O'Connor, Nissly and Prof. Pierce furnished autos for members of the class and a twelve mile trip about the city was enjoyed.

The object of this first trip was to discover ways in which the city might be easily beautified before the coming encampment. Various things were pointed out as the streets were reviewed and papers are being written on the subject by all members of the class. Other trips will follow as soon as the work on this first one is completed.

REPRESENTATIVES OF HOME SOCIETY WORKING HARD TO RAISE FUNDS

Three great charities in Michigan are worthy of patronage of the general public at the present time they are the Tuberculosis society, The Visiting Nurses' association and the Michigan Children's Home society. These three charities have adopted the plan of selling tags in the cities and towns throughout the state to secure the needed funds to carry on their great work. This last society which is being represented in the city by Mrs. Curtis and Mrs. Beardsley, is taking homeless and friendless children from all over the country and placing them where they will be taken care of. It has taken children from Ypsilanti in the past and stands ready to take them in the future.

This society has saved not only more than 110 normal children but it has in the past six years been taking from the poor houses and hospitals, blind and crippled children, the most unfortunate of all classes, and kept a careful supervision over them until they were able to care for themselves. The state affords no good shelter for these poor children and in taking them this society has taken upon itself a great burden and help must be secured to go on with this good work. It is hoped that Ypsilanti will do her share in this undertaking. All who are willing to help this worthy cause by selling tags are asked to send their names to Mrs. Alice Spalsbury. Phone 779-L.

A house to house canvass will be made by the committee Saturday. D. L. Quirk, William B. Hatch and W. H. Sweet have been appointed on the finance committee and all residents are urged to respond liberally to this cause.

An appeal has been made to the churches, Sunday schools and before various aid societies for assistance in promoting the tag sales. The headquarters of the society will be at Mack & Mack's furniture store and women and girls are urged to respond early. The tags will be sold on the streets, in stores and offices and at homes about the city and the general support of the public is earnestly solicited.

SECOND LORIMER PROBE ORDERED

Forty-Eight Senators Vote for It and Twenty Against.

DONE ON MARTIN'S RESOLUTION

Committee on Privileges and Elections to Have Charge of Inquiry into Alleged Corruption Attending Illinoisan's Election.

Washington, June 2.—The senate ordered a second investigation of the Lorimer case by a vote of 48 to 20.

The resolution offered by Senator Martin of Virginia as an amendment to Senator LaFollette's resolution was adopted. The 20 votes were supplied by thirteen insurgent Republicans, one regular—Perkins, of California, and six Democrats. Under the Martin resolution the second investigation will be conducted by the committee on privileges and elections. This committee will recommend a senate committee of eight of its members, subject to ratification by the senate. Senator LaFollette's resolution authorized a select committee of five to be elected by the senate. Every senator favored a re-investigation, the issue being as to the form of the committee.

The senate adopted a concurrent resolution offered by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, calling on the secretary of war for full information as to orders recently issued concentrating staff officers at division headquarters at New York, Chicago and San Francisco and withdrawing them from various department headquarters.

Senator Brown, of Nebraska, introduced a resolution declaring Senator Lorimer's seat vacant.

OFF FOR CORONATION

United States Dreadnaught Delaware Leaves New York.

Biggest Battleship in Review at Spithead Is Spick and Span and Sailors Are Gay.

New York, June 2. — Uncle Sam's dreadnaught Delaware, which will be the biggest war vessel in King George's coronation review, left the Brooklyn navy yard on her way to the cross-sea festival. Spick and span, with everything afloat from stem to stern, the big fighting ship moved slowly down the East river.

On the bridge Captain Gove took charge as the Delaware crept down the river. All together there are 950 officers and men aboard and if they get a chance the bluejackets and marines will show Londoners some good marching. This is the only department of the game in which the bluejacket admits playing second fiddle to the marine.

For the first time the British naval experts will have a chance to see an American warship of this size in English waters and there is sure to be comment aplenty on the good ship Delaware.

There will be about 300 warships at the review at Spithead on June 24, 250 of them British and the rest representing foreign countries. Rear Admiral Vreeland will be the ranking officer on the trip and the official representative of the United States navy at the coronation ceremonies. A rear admiral's salute of thirteen guns was fired as he went aboard.

WHY ENCOURAGE OR TOLERATE EITHER?

The following report is from an experienced newspaper man, one of Leslie's Weekly's correspondents at San Antonio. It has to do with the moral environments surrounding the soldiers in camp near there, and as quoted in Leslie's Weekly is as follows:

"An interesting phase of the saloon situation here just at this time is the fact that the men will walk the three miles from the post and maneuver camp to the nearest saloons in the city. They receive so little pay that they seem to willingly walk a distance which requires fifteen minutes to cover by trolley or auto so that they can save the money for spending in the city. There they congregate in places that can be designated by no other term than dives. Barrel houses, small adobe saloons run by Mexicans, open-air saloons and places reached by narrow alleys and through low doorways—every conceivable type of saloon is filled with the enlisted men. I spent some eight years as a reporter on papers in Fort Worth and had formed the opinion that my assignment, which was through the famous 'Hell's Half Acre,' was about the worst and at the same time the liveliest a man ever had, but San Antonio beats it. The Trans-San Pedro (across the ditch) district where the soldiers swarm every night, is a sight to be remembered. There are many adobe huts seventy-five years old in which are saloons. A few nights ago I entered one, a low mud and stone structure. In the front room was a short bar, probably ten feet long. Soldiers lounged against it and others crowded the little room. Through a door leading into a rear room came the sound of a Mexican keno caller. There I found a room about twenty feet square, literally packed with soldiers. They were three or four deep around crap tables, poker tables, three-card monte and two or three other games I had never heard of. A keno game was in the corner and a Mexican monotonously called the numbers to those within a few feet of him—all this through a saloon of the lowest type."

"In this controversy Leslie's takes no sides. But it does seem to us that the conditions thus described deserve the careful consideration of the opponents of the canteen system. Which is the better way to promote temperance—the official canteen or the unofficial saloon?"

The question naturally arises, Why should the federal government encourage or even tolerate such an environment as is here depicted? When science has established within recent years—so conclusively, as it seems to us—that alcohol, even in the proportion contained in lager beer or the lighter wines perceptibly reduces the efficiency of the man or woman who uses it, reduces their efficiency as a healthy, working force, and also reduces their ability to withstand rigor and cold and heat and disease, why should not the federal government discourage the use of liquors by the boys in blue—or khaki—in every possible way, in order to increase the efficiency of the American army.

It is this very bad environment which is permitted to surround the camps of our soldiers in times of peace and weakens them for service in times of war and returns them after the war oftentimes physical and moral derelicts in society that makes it increasingly difficult for the army to recruit the best men for this strenuous service. It is this which brings the family influence to bear against permitting any boy going into the army if it can possibly be prevented. Why should not the federal government cooperate in producing an environment about its military forces which will cause the citizenship of the country to have respect for the army's and navy's ideals, and respect, if you please, for the flag?

The old policy of "Between two evils choose the least" ought to be relegated to the junk-pile and substituted in its place, "Of two evils choose neither."

A GREAT PHYSICIAN

What He Said of Germs that Cause Disease

M. Pasteur, sometimes called the Greatest physician often said: "I believe that we shall one day rid the world of all diseases that are caused by germs."

Of all the diseases caused by germs, catarrh is one of the most persistent and loathsome. Catarrh can be cured, but only by destroying the germs.

Breathe HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) and cure catarrh by killing the germs. The HYOMEI method is the only sensible method, because you breathe the highly antiseptic and germ killing air directly over the entire membrane infested with catarrh germs.

HYOMEI will cure catarrh. There may be some complicated cases where it will fail, but the chances are ten to one in its favor, and the sufferer from catarrh takes no risk, because HYOMEI is a guaranteed remedy, and if it doesn't cure, Duane Spalsbury will refund the purchase price.

HYOMEI will also give instant relief and cure bronchitis, coughs, colds and croup. A complete outfit, including hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1.00. If you now own a Hyomei inhaler you can get a bottle of HYOMEI for 50 cents.

Spelling Contest June 6

At Ann Arbor H. S.

A spelling contest will be conducted by County School Commissioner Esberry on Tuesday, June 6, beginning at 1:15 p. m., at the Ann Arbor high school for those who attended the group contests. As far as known 37 attended the previous contest but only one, Muriel Lord, of district No. 5, Ypsilanti township, spelled all of the words correctly. Consequently she was entitled to attend the final at Ann Arbor. Being the only one she was declared the winner of Webster's Collegiate Dictionary presented by Geo. Wahr. Those eligible were required to have earned 98 per cent in the township contests. The conditions in this respect were the same as last year.

All who expect to go to Ann Arbor to enter the contest should notify the school commissioner at once.

The pupils attending the group contests were Lizzie Alvord, Hugo Breitwischer, Florence Bowers, Ethel Ballard, Esther Cornish, Marian De Wolfe, Cleo Duggan, Bernice Downer, Harold Every, Ruth Foley, Esther Gray, Herman Guthard, Ruth Graf, Edith Gotts, Margaret Gotts, Helen Hammond, Edna Hawker, Maytie Hoelzer, Clarence Kobbie, Bevie Klink, Nina Kalmbach, Cora Livermore, Isabelle Lyman, Marian Miller, Ida Mohrhardt, Ora Miller, Elton Osborn, Grace Randall, Ernest Richmond, Hilda Rice, Gladys Richards, Lizzie Smith, Josephine Smith, Mildred Shankland, Dorothy Steere and David Wahl.

Splendid Concert Closes The Course

The Normal Concert course, which has been a source this season of so much aesthetic pleasure, finished in splendid form Thursday evening with a program by the Senior Singing club under the direction of Frederick Alexander, director. The accompanists were Miss Alice Lowden at the piano and Miss Frances Strong at the organ. The Senior Singing Club was assisted by Mr. Edwin Hughes, pianist, of Detroit.

The evening opened with three exquisite numbers, "The Lass with the delicate air," "The Fairies' Slumber Song from 'Midsummer Night's Dream' and "Voices of the Woods." The aesthetic beauty of the interpretation of these under Prof. Alexander's skilful directing was supremely delightful. The unity of the singers, the delicate shading and bright vivacity infused into these gay light songs was a pleasure throughout to mark.

Mr. Hughes first appeared in a ballad in the form of variations on a Norwegian Theme, by Grieg. The clear pronunciation of this theme, was succeeded by brilliant variations which were fascinating and most complex and played in remarkable tempo. The audience was captivated and demanded an encore so insistently that Mr. Hughes returned and played a Chopin mazurka.

A Swedish Peasants' Wedding March of Sodermann's—a most melodious thing and suggestively realistic—and an Indian lullaby by Dr. Vogt, charmingly sung, were the next compositions given by the singing club.

Mr. Hughes' numbers were distinguished for their immense difficulty and for unusual and most interesting effects. At his second appearing he played a nocturne in F by Chopin, a rhapsody, opus 42, by Grunfeld and Wiener Blut Walzer by Johann Strauss. These were executed with a mastery power wholly amazing and showed Mr. Hughes to be a most gifted and brilliant musician. He was again enthusiastically encored.

"Saint Mary Magdalene," a cantata by d'Indy was given by the singing club with the recitatives and solos sung by Mrs. Annis D. Gray. Mrs. Gray's voice was exquisitely serene and tender in the sustained recitatives and noble and inspiring in the more spirited solo parts. The harmonious blending of voices and the sympathy which marked the singing of this cantata, together with the beauty of the text and the music made it a fitting composition in which to hear last this most talented club.

OWES HER HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, your Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house."

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls to build them up and make them strong and well. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has always helped her."

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to these wonderful medicines."

—Mrs. J. G. JOHNSON, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 3.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases.

Hold Up Crew of Freight at Niagara Falls.

Cars Opened, Merchandise Tumbled into Road and Then Carted Off in Wagons.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 2.—The police are making a thorough search of the Canadian frontier for four bandits who held up an Erie freight train within the city limits and succeeded in getting away with about a carload of merchandise.

The robbers boarded the train in the yards. A little way beyond they cut the air hose. While the train was yet in motion two men rushed forward to the engine, leveling guns at the engineer and fireman, and forced them to bring the train to a stop.

Two others of the gang opened the cars and tumbled merchandise into the road. Covered wagons drove up and the booty was hastily loaded and hurried away. The value of the haul has not been determined.

NEGLECTED CHILDREN LEAVE HOME IN ANN ARBOR

Ann Arbor, June 2.—Ira Bell, aged 9, and his little sister, aged 6, two neglected children ran away from their home at Ann Arbor Thursday afternoon and started to walk to Ypsilanti. They got as far as Carpenter's Corners when they met a farmer who paid their fare to Ypsilanti where they said they wanted to go to visit an aunt. On the car they would not tell the conductor who they were or where they wanted to go so an officer was notified and met the car when they arrived.

The father of the children was notified but for some reason or other he paid little attention to them. They were taken back to Ann Arbor later in the evening by an officer and put in the detention ward where the two older girls, aged 11 and 13, respectively, were awaiting trial for the theft of $3 which was taken from an Ann Arbor residence. Application has already been made to send them to the state school at Coldwater.

The family moved from this city to Ann Arbor two or three years ago. There are seven children in the family and the father appears to be little concerned as to their welfare.

DaRatt was made chairman. Mrs. Ayers served dainty refreshments during the afternoon.

Are You Ready

To properly care for the crowds who will visit Ypsilanti in June, we must see that our homes are in shape to entertain them.

A new spring (from Mack and Mack's) must be put on this bed; a mattress and pillows (from Mack and Mack's) on that one—in the spare room a sanitary cot (from Mack and Mack's).

This encampment is going to be a cracking good advertisement for Ypsilanti, or a mighty poor one. Its all up to our citizens. Make our visitors comfortable, and they will carry away a lasting good impression of Ypsi.

Old Hickory porch furniture, Grass Rugs on the floors, Vudor Porch Screens, all help to make your home comfortable and attractive.

We offer for $1.50 our regular $2.00 cots. Cots rented for 75 cents, if ordered at once.
